The Leadership Summit

29th - JANUARY - 2023

Theme

Innovate, Integrate, Motivate

Innovation is a topic of intense interest and is crucial to confronting the vast majority of issues against humanity. The capacity to upgrade existing ideas and challenge existing beliefs is vital. It can be defined variously and includes problem-solving processes, executing new ideas to create societal value, and applied creativity.

The emphasis is on the paradigm shift needed for businesses to acclimatize and position themselves for changes in the global technology landscape to ensure that they stay at the cutting edge of their industries.

The challenge is to ingratiate the changes and innovations and further motivate to inculcate them in the work culture, which requires dynamicity and cohesiveness in the organization.

DISCUSSION POINTS:

- How can we motivate innovation in a culture fixated on estimating ability and capacity?
 - The importance, variety, and outcomes of innovation have made it necessary for institutions and corporations to stoke this crucial skill more effectively. What strategies are leaders inculcating to integrate innovation?
 - What's the right approach to move forward and create more value and impact on society rather than bounce back to the status quo?
 - How can we close the gap between where you are, where you want to be, and the whole organization?
