Objective of the Project

The quickly changing business landscape and the need for critical talent to match up the huge de-mand and supply gap is a growing concern across the world. It is of paramount importance that our education system also has to gear up and prepare today's learners to navigate such complex situations of the future. As educators we need to THRIVE to develop and deliver programs which matches the skills required for the Future of Work and exemplify the need for continuous learning and building capabilities to handle such changes.

With the New Education Policy imperative in place, it's time that we rethink, reassess and rewire ourselves to develop and deliver programs which prepares future leaders with the flexible yet growth-oriented mindset, compassionate heart and collaborative behaviors.

Project T.H.R.I.V.E stands for creating

Transformational, Humanistic, Responsible, Innovative, Value-led Educators. By creating a program just for educators we want to ensure that the change has to start from our end to lead this mission of imparting education with highest quality, equity, and integrity. The educators have to continually grapple with high student dropouts, disengaged and fragmented learning, shifting preferences of learners and ever-changing industry standards. Hence, it is the right moment to embark upon a journey of not just surviving but THRIVING to maximize one's potential.
